pendant

the K831 lamp is based on a rare 1930s design from kandem.

the re-edition of the K831 was initiated and designed by david einsiedler and joke rasch in 2014.

as it shares midgard's philosophy and values with regard to creating solutions for directional light, it is today produced by midgard in keeping with the brand's traditions and with respect to the then-used materials.

all parts are made in germany and the lamp is manually assembled in hamburg.
