

Home Stories

A home contains a unique mix of memories, stories and personalities. Within its walls, individual narratives are created through carefully chosen interior styles and distinct approaches to design.

At this time of the year, we bring homes to life with the Vitra Home Collection. Iconic and eclectic, the collection encompasses not only the classics of 20th century design but also the most contemporary of pieces. It ranges across the spectrum of furniture typologies, design styles, colours and materials.

Explored here in four different homes, the Vitra Home Collection empowers you to create your ideal living environment, be it sober minimalism or an eclectically colourful collage.

We wanted a home where we could combine family life and work under one roof. Then we found this building, which used to be a pub. We kept the original structure as much as possible, with gentle interventions – partly improvised. The furniture reflects the same approach: we surrounded our dining table with a mix of chairs of all styles and colours.

Nobody believes me when I tell them this modernist house was built only two years ago. We wanted an elegant space with lots of natural light and a strong connection to nature. This is why we have selected natural materials, like wool and linen, marble and wood for our contemporary and classic furniture.
